

It's about your independence

“Five hours grandma laid there. I called and called but there was no answer...finally I left work and went over to her place. There was no answer at the door, so I used my key and went in. There she was on the kitchen floor, her hip broken, and unable to get up. I wanted to make sure that this would never happen again!

Grandma wanted her independence, and didn't want to burden the family. Rescue Alert made it possible for her and our family, to live our own lives—yet still provided 24-hour peace of mind for her...and me.”

Attendant Calls Responders

Detailed emergency information, your responders’ names and telephone numbers, and your brief medical history are entered and stored in the Emergency Response Center’s computers. When a call for help is received, the Emergency Response Center’s computers instantly provide the attendant with all of your emergency information. The attendant personally calls your responders in the precise manner which you have directed.

- The attendant can verify the emergency before any responders are called.
- The attendant personally speaks with your responders to inform them that you need help and evaluates their response.
- The computer provides speed and accuracy while the attendant adds the personal contact with your responders.

Two-Way Voice Service

This user friendly system provides you with Two-Way Voice communication. A high tech speaker and microphone allows you to send a call for help, and talk to an attendant to explain the nature of your emergency.

- Speak directly to the attendant rather than waiting for a responder to show up minutes later.
- If you are unable to speak, the attendant will proceed to contact your responders and send help.
- Two-way voice service provides a human contact to offer you the comfort and reassurance that help is on the way!
